Our Mission

Our mission is to prepare your child for an increasingly global and technological world by engaging him with the most recent technology, using hands-on activities, and teaching high-level math.

Why Choose Us

- 55% of our K-8 children test one year up in math and are doing math at an advanced level.
- According to our NWEA standardized test scores, every Eagle Creek Academy grade level is averaging well above the national norm in both math and reading.
- 54% of our K-8 children are reading at least one grade above their grade level.
- 100% of our children study Spanish.

Our accreditation

Eagle Creek is accredited by the National Association for the Education of Young Children (NAEYC), which means that we have been officially recognized for meeting high standards in safety, health, parent communication, teacher qualifications and challenging curriculum.

Our curriculum

We teach in small groups so that we can tailor our lessons to the children's personal strengths and needs. For children who are gifted, talented and eager, we offer advanced math groups and passion projects. Our full-time school counselor is happy to meet with parents about their personal goals for their children.

Our teachers

Our 16 core teachers of preschool through 8th grade average 6 years at Eagle Creek, 16 years as lead teachers in their own classrooms, and 19 years in education. On average, there is one core teacher for every 9 students.
